

Team Workshop

A human, energetic, and soul-filling workshop designed to make everyone in your team feel more energised, impactful and alive.

why?

TEAMS CREATE CULTURE.

They create a sense of belonging for people and set the behavioural standards they live by. It's in teams that the true culture of your organisation lives.

how?

OUR TWO-DAY TEAM WORKSHOP.

This gives teams the space to invest in how they work. We tighten up relationships and help everyone to get clear on the standards the whole team will commit to.

People learn a set of new, energetic, and creative behavioural approaches they can apply to any issue they might face:

- Learn how to make every interaction at work and in life count.
- Discover how to love getting feedback and use it every day.
- Think more creatively on any issue and deliver results without brainstorming (yuk).
- Become pro at managing your energy to get more 'good' days.
- Understand how to lead change and make it a fun and exciting ride.
- Learn how to have direct conversations beautifully.
- Thrive on experimentation and love making extraordinary things happen every day.

You'll get a super-tight team who understands themselves and each other better and are laser focused on how to use their unique talents to drive results every day. Your people leave with an energetic and cultural boost to their DNA whilst also feeling inspired and excited to change the wider business for the good.

Elvis unleashes the power of people in my team who are enabled to provide conscious and creative leadership to help others translate insights into big ideas.

STAN STHANUNATHAN, Executive Vice President - CMI, Unilever