

WORKSHOP: UPPING YOUR TEAM

UPPING^{YOUR}ELVIS

DURATION

Two days (over three days)

WHERE

Lyme Regis, Dorset

WHAT?

A two day retreat based workshop (over three days) for leaders to invest in how they work. A time for reflection and bonding, whilst tuning up the behaviours and skills of how they function. Known by our clients as Leadership Rehab, we help people get away from bad habits and introduce good ones. All approaches will be used in the team context in order to tighten up relationships and get clear on the standards that the whole team will commit to.

WHERE?

At the stunning Elvis HQ in Lyme Regis, Dorset. Founder Chris's Georgian mansion home allows people to feel relaxed and able to contribute immediately. There are acres of grounds to enjoy and sea air to breathe. Feeding your mind, body and soul.

WHAT YOU GET

- Learn new, energetic and creative behavioural approaches which can be applied to issues leadership faces
- How to make every interaction count at work and in life
- Build your awareness so you can consciously ask the question 'what's needed here?'
- Discover how to love getting feedback and lead using it every day
- How to think more creatively on any issue and deliver results without doing brainstorming (yuk)
- Learn how to manage your energy to get more 'good' days
- Understand how to become a flexible leader and cope with change
- How to lead the change and make it fun and exciting
- A human, energetic and soul filling adventure with lots of laughter
- Delicious and nutritious food, fresh air and a celebratory party night

RESULT

- A team who understand themselves and each other better, to help them make the most of their skills to drive better results.
- A super tight team with an energetic and cultural boost to their DNA.
- New ways of being with an agreed behavioural standard that will make the team more productive, but also change the wider business for the good.
- A happy bunch of people who are raring to go!
